2023 Sustainability Annual Conference Workshop

24 and 25 November 2023 | Taipei, Taiwan

At the 2023 Sustainability Annual Conference, NTCH Sustainability Consultant led an engaging workshop tailored for performing arts teams, cultural venue workers, cultural policy makers, and other industry practitioners. The workshop focused on current environmental issues, policy developments, and international trends, all within the framework of the 2030 Sustainability Vision.

Participants explored key environmental, social, and economic sustainability challenges specific to the arts industry. Through dynamic discussions, they assessed the current landscape, identified available resources, and shared insights. The workshop empowered attendees to analyze existing obstacles, brainstorm innovative solutions, and develop sustainable strategies. Additionally, participants were encouraged to set medium-term sustainability goals, fostering a proactive approach to creating a more sustainable future in the arts.
