PUPPET AND ITS DOUBLE

Puppet and Its Double invites the public to discover the joy in seemingly useless scraps. In the "Adventure of the Materials on the Puppet Table," materials that were once inanimate on the puppet table come to life, sprouting eyes and escaping their fate in recycling yards and incinerators. Some even venture to playgrounds to interact with the public. Hand-scribbled color blocks and wrinkled paper transform into borders, monsters, and roads, replacing traditional printed outputs, embodying the spirit of "play, creativity, and sustainability."

"LINE MAGIC ON STAGE" WORKSHOP

The "Line Magic on Stage" workshop invites participants to imagine and explore the potential of simple lines. Imagine a line in your hand coming to life, curious to explore the space around it. Transitioning from lines to three-dimensional forms, participants will experience the work of a puppeteer, discovering the inherent vitality of each material and transforming it into a unique puppet.
